The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 12, 16-18, & 21-23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Henderson 3,662,729.

Henderson shows a ball throwing machine using gas, having a barrel 10 with opposed ball supports 13, 14 which can be advanced and retracted toward the ball using adjuster 18; and having a motor M-2 to rotate the support and ball. It would be possible to unscrew the adjuster 18 completely, in which case the ball supports would be retracted and not in contact with the ball.

When the supports are advanced, it is not clear what pressure is applied to the ball; however, one would be able to determine through routine experimentation the pressure that results in best ball rotation and alignment; for example, a pressure that is insufficient to prevent the axis of rotation of the ball from changing while being rotated.

In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
